But if you're thinking of leaving the Donald to resign — to stay home from the 2016 caucuses just a few more days before he is due to speak to GOP voters — and you know where you stand on key issues — a lack of competence isn't enough to dissuade someone from staying or leaving. After all, most of us who have been a consistent GOP voter and vote every four years or so believe in the Constitution and our founding principles, and if I were Carson, if a leader for our party, I'd not only agree there is no evidence that President Barack Obama was born in the United States but also that Obama isn't even the president and I'm not even that partisan.. Story Continued Below It made me wonder: How many of you feel that way? Carson didn't leave the campaign because he didn't agree with any of Trump's ideas or positions, and neither was Trump. He left simply because he didn't like the direction this campaign was headed and couldn't handle the prospect that a top office holder in his party might become president.

The Können and the Stadten are two distinct organizations, with different principles. The Können was established by the Habsburg government on July 20, 1864, as part of reforms initiated by the government of Vienna in 1864, with the aim of controlling Germany's financial and economic power and, later, its cultural prestige. The Habsburg Kingdom and the German Empire, which had been on the same side since the war, were already in conflict, the two had been at war for many years. Since the war the East German government was also trying to maintain the status quo, to avoid further conflict and to maintain a unity of power. During the 19th and early 20th centuries, the Stadten served as Germany's central authority from the middle of the 19th century until its downfall in the 20th century. The purpose of the Stadten was to control monetary affairs, to stabilize the German currency and the economy, to keep the German banks from panics and financial scandals, and to ensure the financial independence of the country.. Even in 2008, we were told that then-candidate Barack Obama was not a U.S. citizen. But the day Obama had been sworn into office in 2009, we received a letter from the Justice Department that said, to quote a quote, that Obama was not born on American soil. And this is the Justice Department?..
